WASHINGTON

MONDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 10.

The Next Congress. In three weeks from to-day the Congress of the United States will assemble at the Capitol, and will commence one of the most interesting sessions in its history.

The question of Union and Disunion is settled, and all legislation will have sole reference to the future of our great, powerful, and prospering republic.

The old issues have passed away, and new subjects of legislation will arise. Instead of the re-institution of a national bank, or the creation of a sub-treasury system, the laws relating to the revenue will provide in simple terms for its preservation. Instead of the enactment of laws for the protection of the arts of manufacture, we shall hear the proposition made to establish an Agricultural, as the seventh Department of the Government. Instead of the consideration of plans for procuring the greatest amount of revenue from the sale of the public lands, we shall witness the proposition of plans for facilitating the settlement and improvement of these lands, wholly irrespective of profit to the Government; and not only this, but the most astonishing yet wise and feasible projects will be submitted, for the construction of highways that will give access to the vast and fertile domains to which the axe and the plough shall be invited. Instead of wimidly quibbling about the details of a system of postage that will enable the Government to have all its franking done gratis, a bold and manly step will be taken in the people's name, and such accommodations granted as will frighten the Postmaster General almost into resigning. Instead of quarreling like fishmongers about that dreadfully exciting question of negro slavery, and standing at the North and South poles to threaten and menace, we shall behold the true patriots of the North and South uniting in a grand colonization scheme that will result in glorious blessings to mankind, but especially to America and Africa-a scheme that will involve, as minor details, the construction of a noble line of glorious steamers between our ports and Africa, and the opening of a region of that hitherto benighted land, as beautiful, prolific, and inviting as the rays of the golden sun ever shone upon. - This, indeed, may prove the crowning act and glory of the session. We see in it a bow of promise and of hope, and gladly shall we exult at its growing splendor!

But the organization of Congress, and the Presidential canvass to be conducted as by-play throughout the session, will excite interest of the most intense character in its history. The first will not prove tedious, though the aspirants are numerous and full of hopeful energy.

In relation to the Presidency, there is probably now more uncertainty than this period of an administration has often seen. The men are at hand in numbers-the parties disunited and unstable. The spirit of each party is alive, but the members of its body are separate and discordant. Let us observe the laws by which they are to unite, the new bond of cohesion, the oil that shall heal each lacerated fragment-let us hear the voice that shall command silence and obedience where both have so long been

The coming session will be a pleasant, joyous, profitable time; and "THE GREAT MODEL RE-PUBLIC" will surely survive all the dangers of nounced for the future. It is a great country, this of ours-very!

The steamer Mississippi has arrived at New York, and we shall soon receive, direct from her commander, Captain Long, a veritable relation of the events of his voyage, including an account of the conduct of his distinguished passenger. Kossuth has not arrived in this steamer, but the companions of his exile and poverty have; and we suppose it is for them to duct of Kossuth himself is believed to merit. This is unfortunate, but, if unjust, they who have occasioned it are responsible. We favor a fair trial of the facts of the case before the American people, and shall be satisfied with

"QUIT YOU LIKE MEN."-This injunction of subject of the Rev. Dr. Junkin's second dis-Presbyterian church last night. Dr. J. forcibly passed in review some of the more important objects of man's creation; the faculties with which he is endowed; the means for promoting his usefulness in life; his duty to himself, to the community, and to his Creator; and his immortal destiny. These are subjects worthy the contemplation and study of all, but they apply with peculiar force to that class of our community for whom these lectures are particularly de-

Police Affairs.

The watch-house was well filled on Saturday night-seven negroes and two white men being the number of its prisoners; and this morning the array was of a like character. We earnestly hope our policemen will be prompt to duty, and enforce the laws to their utmost capacity. The security of the city requires this course, and the citizens will sustain it.

There are complaints respecting groggeries being kept open after 12 o'clock on Saturday night, and during Sunday. Look to them.

STRANBOAT ITEMS. -- We learn that the "George Washington Parke Custie," a snug little steamer built by Captain Page, of this city, recently made a trip from Fort Washington to his wharf, at the foot of 7th street, (a distance of sixteen miles,) in one hour and five minutes. The present boiler and engine, which were used to test its capacity, will shortly be replaced by others, of three times their power, from the "Eagle Works" of our enterprising townsman, Mr. Wm. McKinstry. The "Custis" is a beautiful model, one hundred to reinstate. and twenty-five feet long, and is designed to run between Washington and Alexandria. We also learn that the steamer "William Selden," now plying between Fredericksburg and Baltimore, will, at the close of the present ason, be brought back to Capt. Page's wharf, where she will be repaired and fitted up with state-rooms. During the progress of these re-Alexandria and Washington.

Foreign News .- Seven Days Later. The United States mail steamer Baltic and British mail steamer Canada arrived at New York yesterday morning from Liverpool, with dates to the 1st instant. The steamer Africa ran ashore on Copeland Rocks and was obliged to put back, the Canada bringing her mails and passengers. The C. has only been absent twenty-four days in going from Boston to Liverpool, and thence back to New York. Immediately on the arrival of the Canada the mails and passengers of the Asia, 180 in number, together with her cargo, were transferred to her, and she again sailed. The Africa sustained considerable damage, being at one time high and dry upon the reef, seventeen feet from water. Had she been running at full speed at the time she struck, she would inevitably have been lost.

The Baltic left on the 1st, and made a splendid un. She distanced the Canada considerably, prison. that vessel having sailed on the 28th, with very little freight, which was greatly in her favor. Among the Baltic's passengers are Mr. Tod, late U. S. Minister Plenipotentiary to Brazil, U. S. Campbell, American Consul at Rotterdam, Mr. Whitney, bearer of despatches from London, and J. Swift, bearer of despatches from Paris. Cotton since the 18th had declined 1d.

Kossuth had arrived at Southampton. The Rossuth had arrived at Southampton. The frigate Mississippi sailed from Gibraltar with the remaining Hungarian refugees, for New York, on the 15th.

The City of Manchester arrived out on the 17th, in seventeen days from Philadelphia. The Washington had not arrived at all. Further search for Sir John Franklin has been given up for the present.

At a council held by the Queen on the 24th,

Parliament was further prorogued until January 25th.

The most important news from the continent is the formation of the new French ministry. The London Times says upon good authority that Lord Palmerston has intimated to Kossuth his disposition to grant him a non-official interview, if he desires. As far as Lord Palmerston is concerned, he would rather see Kossuth than Kossuth arrived at Southampton on the 23d, and was met with a warm reception. He was received at the steamer by the Mayor, who had provided a carriage for him, drawn by four grey horses, and accompanied by a band of music. On reaching Guildhall, the Mayor welcomed him in a speech, after which an address was read, to which Kossuth replied at considerable length. His visit to London was strictly of a private nature, and consequently no public de-monstration was made. He left London on the 29th to attend a banquet at Southampton.

The gentlemen comprising the new French ministry were considered as good a guarantee for the maintenance of order as the former cabinet. All, however, have more or less Bonapartist tendencies. The Bourse was scarcely affected by the change, and Paris was perfectly quiet. The Prince de Joinville and General hangarnier are candidates for the Presidency. The Pope is lying quite ill and his death has been reported, but contradicted.

It is said that a misunderstanding exists beall her States into the German Confederation. The letter asserts that Austria denies the right of England and France to interfere in this question, and states that she will recognise no other judge than the Diet, if she should call for a

A Compliment.

The following lines are from the pen of a lady whom we are proud to serve. She writes under an impulse that reflects honor upon her, the past-all the threats that have been pro- and that would be felt in full force by all, could we recite the origin of her commendation and gratitude. The existence of such feelings, however, in the hearts of many, affords a good index to the qualities of the generous man toward livered by the worthy patriarch of the Division, whom they have been awakened.

MESSES. EDITORS: What Bacon says of books may be applied with equal pertinency to men. There are few characters so really true as to be seen to advantage in a day light. Hence it is that such individuality should wear the impress of its own peculiar virtues. It honors human-true character of this mockery of religion, prostrue character of the charac ity; and the good and true should not fail so to account it as worthy of all approbation.

We regard Robert W. Latham, esq., of Washnevolence of heart may be seen in the unosten- United States Government, and says: tatious liberality of his acts—the recollection of which will extend far into time and distance. We learn constantly of some new demonstrathe Apostle Paul to the Corinthians was the tion of this character performed by Mr. Latham, seemingly without the consciousness to himself course to Young Men, delivered in the F street of the noble impulses which elicit them, but borne by recipients with an increasing admiration on this account-not only in the community where he lives and is familiarly and favorably known, but by those also who have gone into other lands, sustained by his bounty.

We make these remarks with no invidious distinction, but because we love to honor living merit, wherever and in whomsoever it may be found. Mr. Latham's reputation needs no eulogy, nor do we intend these reflections as such.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6, 1851.

ALARMS AND FIRES .- An unceasing attempt was made throughout Saturday night to get up an extraordinary firemen's excitement, but without any serious result, although the machines were got out now and then.

Last night the trick was recommenced with better success. After one or more abortive attempts at firing small wooden buildings, the carpenter shop of Downing & Brother, on the southeast corner of E and Twelfth streets, (fermerly occupied by Mr. Monroe,) was at bout ten o'clock fired and destroyed, together with its contents, consisting of seven or eight sets of tools and a large quantity of lumber prepared for building. Much of the timber in the yard was likewise consumed, and the pretty and valuable trees along Twelfth street.

THE STATUTE OF LIMITATION .- In an action of debt before the Circuit Court, on Friday last. it was ruled that proof of a new promise was not competent in bar of the plea set up, and the plaintiff suffered a nonsuit, with leave to move Planting Fruit Trees.

"Jock, when ye has nothing else to do, ye may be aye sticking in a tree; it will be growing, Jock, when ye're sleeping."—Heart of Mid-Lothian.

Six Reasons for Planting an Orchard, by Edson

Harkness.

1. Would you leave an inheritance to your children? Plant an orchard. No other investment of money and labor will, in the long run, ment of money and labor will, in the long run, pay so well.

2. Would you make home pleasant—the abode of the social virtues? Plant an orchard. Nothing better promotes, among neighbors, a feeling of kindness and good will, than a treat of good fruit, often repeated.

3. Would you remove from your children the strongest temptations to steal? Plant an orchard. If children cannot obtain fruit at home, they are very apt to steal it; and when they have learned to steal fruit, they are in a fair way to learn to steal horses.

way to learn to steal horses.

4. Would you cultivate a constant feeling of thankfulness towards the great giver of all good? Plant an orchard. By having constantly before you one of the greatest blessings given to man, you must be hardened, indeed, if you are not influenced by a spirit of humanity and thankfulness.

5. Would you have your children love their home, respect their parents while living, and venerate their memory when dead—in all their wanderings look back upon the home of their youth as a sacred spot—an oasis in the great wilderness of the world?—Then plant an or-

6. In short, if you wish to avail yourself of the blessings of a bountiful Providence which are within your reach, you must plant an or-chard. And when you do it, see that you plant good fruit. Don't plant crab-apple trees, nor wild plums, nor Indian peaches. The best are the cheapest.

A correspondent, in writing to us on this subject, says that there is a deficiency of apricots, plums, and pears in the markets of Washington, and that a hundred varieties of the plum and a hundred varieties of the pear, ripening in tween the governments of Austria and Denmark. Vienna letters state that the Austrian may be had of our nurservmen—and that some may be had of our nurserymen-and that some cabinet had recently addressed a note to the British and French governments in their reply to their protest against Austria entering with tinues, the residents of each ward of our city were to plant the varieties of the highest excellence, the buds and grafts might be distributed among the country people, who are unable to purchase them, and thus these fruits would soon come into the market. Is it not worthy consid-

Doings AT TEMPERANCE HALL .- Last night old Timothy Division Sons of Temperance, No. had a glorious meeting, being the largest of the season. Eloquent speeches were made by Messrs. Carper, Henderson, Tipton, and Cammack. A short and pertinent address was deat the opening of the meeting. We hope the other Divisions of the city will keep the ball in motion until old King Alcohol is knocked down never to rise again.

The Louisville Courier alludes to the attitude ington city, as one of these spirits, whose be- of defiance in which it now stands toward the

"This renewed outrage on their part is but continuation of their whole conduct since they irst had an existence in the State of New York. So indecent and base was their conduct in that State, that public opinion drove them from there to Ohio. They resided but a short time there, before the same depraved mode of life and open violation of all the obligations of good citizens compelled them again to seek a new field of im-posture, and their tents were pitched in Missouri. Here they very soon became worse than they had been either in New York or Ohio, and, after causing almost a civil war in that State, they emigrated to Illinois. Here they became the recipients of most extraordinary legislative privileges and powers, both political parties at the time running a race with each other to see who could go farthest in courting them, so as to secure their future political influence and suffrages.

"After Joe Smith had fortified himself by legislative enactments that made Nauvoo a ecclesiastical as well as civil despotism under his rule, scenes of violence and outrage speedily followed that required the militia force of the State, with the Governor at its head, to suppress, and which was only ended by the two leading imposters, Joe and Hiram Smith, being put to death. The Smiths out of the way, a number of the lesser lights at once claimed the successorship as Prophet in iniquity and depravity, and Brigham Young, with one party, migrated to Salt Lake, and Strang, with another party, to an island in the vicinity of Michigan, and other small parties to different places, the leader of each claiming to be the true prophet and the successor of Joe Smith. Some of Strang's party were lately under arrest for resisting the Marshal of the United States, for counterfeiting and a half dozen other crimes. and now we have news of the sedition of Brigham Young, and the flight of the United State officers from his dominion, to save themselves from the consequences of his disregard and contempt for all law.

"The very structure of Mormonism, as prac-tised in all the States we have enumerated, is directly at war with the spirit and genius of our institutions, and repugnant to those moral restraints which constitute the basis of all civilized society. And it is to be regretted that, owing to party contests, vice is counte-nanced and legalized, as it has been in the case of these Mormons. No one can wonder for a moment that these things have happened at Salt Lake; for where virtue and morality are at a discount, and licentiousness and depravity command a high premium throughout an entire community, neither reputation, life, nor property can be expected to be brought under protection of the law."

ROWAND'S TONIC MIXTURE!

The greatest Ague-cure ever known!!!

THE SECOND BOTTLE of Rowand's Tonic Mixture is of more importance even than the FIRST; for while the one, when properly used, stops the chills, resets the various organs, restores their functions, and fortifies the nervous system, enabling all "to go on their way rejoining in their strength," thereby curing Dyspepsia and Constipation, upon which the disease so often depends, the second (by being taken on the anticipatory days specified in the directions) destroys the liability to relapse st the lunar periods, viz., on the seventh, fourteenth, twenty-first and twenty-eighth days, by creating the peculiar and stronger impression of the Tonic Mixture on the sixth, thirteenth, twentieth and twenty-essenth days!
